

SOUTH TERMINAL COMPLEX

As the busiest airport in Florida and a world-class, global gateway to the most visited destination in the U.S., Orlando International Airport (MCO) is meeting the demands of record-setting passenger growth with the largest construction project in airport history: the South Terminal Complex (STC).

Construction is underway with crews working 7 days a week on the terminal, which is the cornerstone of the $4.2 billion, multi-year MCO Capital Improvement Program and is expected to be complete in 2021. Phase I of the project will add 19 gates capable of accommodating up to 27 aircraft, including narrow body, jumbo and super-jumbo jets.

A critical element of the region's economic growth, the intuitive, three-level STC will accommodate travel for 10 million-plus additional passengers and connect to the existing intermodal terminal facility (APM Complex). The first LEED®v4 airport campus in the world, the Complex is designed with The Orlando Experience® in mind. Passengers will be drawn from one element to the next – in a more spacious and convenient environment that delivers on customer care throughout.
